—A new rolling mill company has been incorporated at Zanesville.

—Mr. Jas. Brown of Findlay, is visiting his old home here this week.

—The Democrats organized quite a large club last Thursday night.

—T. W. Rochester and wife are visiting the family of Rev. C. C. Hart in St. Louis.

—We could not see the “cold day” point in Fisher’s Comedy Co. Tuesday evening.

—Miss Ollie Woodruff will spend the winter in Jobs in the teaching of music.

—Miss Blanche Wright, who has been ill with fever for some time, is now much improved.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Webb of Kansas are the guests of relatives and friends here this week.

—Mr. Will Westhaver of Chicago is visiting his parents and many friends here this week.

—Miss Sadie Pond has returned to Beatrice after a pleasant visit here among family and friends.

—Mrs. J. H. Bowman of Columbus is visiting her mother, Mrs. Lucy Crawford here this week.

—The meeting at Jobs Friday evening will be addressed by Hons. John L. Geyer and W. P. Price.

—No tin badges, no tin canes, not even a little tin whistle at the Grosvenor meeting Monday night.

—Col. Alex. Sands and son “Bek” of the Enquirer are visiting F. C. Rochester and wife here last week.

—The medicine fakir on the street last Saturday afternoon drew a larger crowd than candidate Seitz had.

—Two severe storms are predicted by the weather prophets to make their appearance in a few days.

—Harry Brown who has been wrestling with the fever for some time has recovered sufficiently to sit up.

—The ladies of the Haydensville K. of P. will give an entertainment at that place on Saturday evening, Oct. 17.

—The old school building is so crowded that classes can be seen holding recitation on the stairs and in the halls. The new building is just completed and it isn't any too soon.

—There is probably no other town in the state the size of Logan that has as much ready musical talent as this. There hasn't been a band in organization here for years but on an occasion last week twelve of our boys threw themselves together and without a moments practice rendered some most commendable music upon our streets. Seems strange that we cannot have a permanently organized band. With help and encouragement from our city we could have a musical organization here that would equal any in the state.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY.

Hon. C. H. Baerhaus was chosen chairman of the Democratic meeting last night, and after a few introductory remarks, presented the speaker, Hon. John L. Geyer. Mr. Geyer's address was devoted mainly to a discussion of the tariff, and the manner in which he showed up the iniquities and inconsistencies of the McKinley bill and the apostle of high taxed clothing and bibles, free acorns and fiddle strings, elicited rounds of applause. The speaker showed how the tariff had been increased from about fifteen per cent, one hundred years ago, to sixty per cent at the present time, thus demonstrating that our one-hundred-year-old “infant” industries now demand three times as much protection as was deemed necessary in the days of their real infancy. The address was listened to throughout with the closest attention, and at its conclusion Judge Huffman was called upon, but excused himself from taking an active part in such meetings because of the position which he occupies. Mr. O. W. H. Wright was next called and made a very spirited short speech. At the adjournment of the meeting three rousing cheers were given for Campbell and the entire Democratic ticket.

GROSVENOR'S ORUEL

Tin Horn Grosvenor Feeds a Logan Audience on Some Very Thin Political Diet.

GEN. GROSVENOR has no hesitancy in indorsing and approving all the iniquitous class legislation, subsidies, bounty swindles, force bills and general extravagance of the Republican party for the last twenty-five years. He even attempted to justify the reckless extravagance of the recent Billion-dollar Congress. He glories in the fact that he voted for the ship subsidy bill, and while he says he is tired sailing on the ocean under a foreign flag, he knows full well that it was by legislation of the Republican party that the American flag was driven from the seas. During the course of his speech he happened to remember that the day (October 5) was the anniversary of the day upon which the McKinley bill went into effect, and immediately called for three cheers, but not the least ripple of noise was forthcoming from the audience. Sad, indeed, when a Republican audience cannot raise one little cheer for protection. At the conclusion of his address he made a bitter and vindictive assault upon the Australian ballot method, characterizing it as a sort of three-card monte scheme—in fact he declared that in a few years the game of three-card monte would be considered a christian institution in comparison with the Australian method of voting. Why is it that Grosvenor is opposed to an election law that assures an honest vote and a fair count? Have not Republicans howled long and loud for this same thing? But the fact is, Republicans do not want honest elections. They know that nearly all their victories have been obtained by purchase, bribery, intimidation and fraud. The Republican party never has been, is not now, and never will be in favor of honest elections, for just so soon as honest elections occur the Republican party will be driven from power. The Australian method of voting has been adopted by about one-half the states of the union and not a single adverse criticism has been heard from the people of those states, and the man who assails the Ohio law must be prompted to do so by unworthy motives, because the effect of that law will be to secure to every citizen of the state the privilege of casting his vote according to his own will, uninfluenced by party bosses or interference of any kind. It is safe to say that the man who opposes the Ohio election law is digging his own political grave.

OBITUARY.

Death lies on her, like an untimely frost Upon the sweetest flower of all the field.—Shakespeare.

Departed life at the Monastery of Saint Mary Magdalen, Col., O. September 29, 1891, Sister Mary M. Charles Borromeo, in the fifth year of her Religious Profession. Sister Charles was known in this city as Miss Cornelia Hodge. Gifted with a particularly joyous and amiable disposition, she was most affectionately loved by her numerous friends who learned with sorrow of her early death. Her illness was a recurrence of hip complaint almost fatal when but five years of age. The Sisterhood were untiring in their devotion to her, and the best medical skill pronounced her case hopeless although she might live for months but an internal hemorrhage coming on in a few hours produced unconsciousness, and surrounded by her cherished companions in religion she passed peacefully from life. Union with God her motto, she accepted suffering with christian resignation, receiving the consolation of the Catholic rites for the dying, before her death. Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock the convent Chaplain offered the mass of Requiem. Toward evening, the sisters as pall bearers bore her remains to the chapel for the last funeral service, from there to the waiting hearse which passed between the procession of sisters, and at the tolling of the bell, she was borne beyond the convent gates to Calvary Cemetery. There in the silence of consecrated ground under the sacred shadow of the cross, Sister Charles sleeps her dreamless slumber.
